Demo mode added:

This mode is used to help new players to find out how this game works and learn how to play this game. When player is using this mode, a pre-recorded video will be on display. All the actions of all the characters in the game can be played back during recording. When the recorded video is finished, player has the option to return to the main menu.

Save game feature added:

This feature allows players to save the state of the game at any point. And it is convenient for player to continue the previously saved game next time without restarting the game.

Auber power ups, new infiltrator abilities added

The addition of these two tasks can better add to the player's experience and make the game more interesting

Code document Modified

Modify and add the new code we wrote. Help other programmers to understand our code more easily.

Tool Used

For the communication tool we decided to use Slack instead of Discord. Although both tools are free and accessible, Slack provides better features that suits the group. Within the software we can create separate message channels to organise the content for each of our group discussion. Furthermore, Trello and Github's notifications can be linked to Slack. Thus, whenever there is a change being made it keeps us informed.
